

THE RACE ISSUE

Senator Newlands of Nevada Says its a Serious Problem.

SHOULD BE SETTLED

In Discussing the "Yellow Peril"

He Declares That Congress Should Not Leave the Question to Diplomats, But Should Itself Take Steps to Preserve White Race.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Senator Newlands, of Nevada, in a statement given to the Associated Press tonight, asserted that there should be broad, national legislation, covering the whole Japan question. "The legislation proposed by the Pacific coast States, intended to meet certain purposes of what constitutes a national peril, had been opposed by the President as involving violation of our treaty with Japan and imperilling her friendship," he said.

"Whilst the Western States will, in all probability, practically yield to such suggestion, there is danger that the abandonment of such legislation may be misunderstood by the Eastern States, whose people are unfamiliar with the economic and social dangers attendant upon Asiatic immigration, and that they may think we acquiesce in the view that a great question of national and domestic policy, should be turned over to the negotiation of diplomats. No question involving such important consideration as race homogeneity and domestic industrial peace can safely be turned over to diplomacy."

Continuing the Senator stated that "the Nevada Legislature should adopt resolutions making the following declarations:

"That the race question is now the most important question confronting the nation; that already we have drifted regarding the black race into a condition which seriously suggests the withdrawal of the political rights heretofore mistakenly granted—the inauguration of a humane national policy, which, with the co-operation and the aid of the Southern States, shall recognize that the blacks are a race of children requiring guidance, industrial training and the development of self-control, and other measures intended to reduce the danger of the race complication formerly sectional, but now becoming national.

"That our duty to our race and our institutions and the maintenance of friendship with races differing in color, all demand that we abandon the attempted adjustment of these questions by international treaty and pass a national law to take effect upon the expiration of existing treaties, emphatically declaring that our country is open to white immigration alone; that such immigration shall be restricted to those of a constitution, character and training that will ultimately fit them for American citizenship; and that other races shall be excluded from immigration except for purposes of trade, travel and education."

JONES FOUND GUILTY

Of Murdering His Wife by Poisoning Last July.

Union, Feb. 6.—"Guilty of murder, with a recommendation to mercy," was the verdict in the case of the State vs. W. T. Jones, rendered here at three minutes after 3 o'clock this afternoon, the jury having deliberated since 8:45 last night, in all eighteen hours and eighteen minutes.

The law has answered affirmatively the question propounded last July, "Did W. T. Jones force his wife, Marion Jones, to take strychnine?" Thus has ended one of the most interesting criminal cases ever heard in this State, and by far the most remarkable in the history of this county.

To some the verdict was a great surprise, the jury's lengthy deliberation giving promise, and to some hope, of a mistrial. However, reliable information is to the effect that the jury hesitated between an extreme verdict and the one rendered, there being for some time nine members in favor of inflicting the death penalty.

Takes Icy Bath.

New York, Feb. 5.—W. S. Davidson, a watchman, made a new record for mid-winter surf bathing by remaining for twenty-four minutes in the icy Atlantic off Coney Island. Davidson says he was formerly a nervous wreck, and that his icy swims which he takes frequently, have given him renewed health.

Stole an Engine.

Americus, Ga., Feb. 6.—A strange negro stole a detached locomotive on a freight train on the Central Railroad today and started the engine off. The fireman was underneath and had to hustle to get on the engine and stop it. The thief, who is crazy, jumped off and was arrested.

THREE HOBOES

RODE ACROSS THE CONTINENT IN GREAT STYLE

By Using the Household Effects of Col. Jones, Who Was Moving From the Pacific.

Atlanta, Feb. 6.—The Journal of yesterday published an amusing story of how three tramps crossed the continent in palace car style at the expense of Col. S. R. Jones, Chief Quartermaster of the Gulf Department, who was moving his household goods to the East. About one week ago the Colonel ordered his household goods to be shipped here from Vancouver Barracks, which is in Washington State, towards the northwest end of the continent. After the car had been packed, but before it had been locked, three tramps who felt the nip of the north, peeped in through the crack of the door, then crawled in cautiously. When the car began its long trip southward, they were ensconced snugly inside.

The first day on the road they unpacked Colonel Jones' white iron bed and set it up in one corner, then they equipped it with warm blankets and a fringed counterpane, and one drove a nail into the side of the car and hung up a copy after Titian, and unpacked a box containing the cream of Colonel Jones' library. One seemed to take a liking to a rare copy of Omar Khayyam, another selected Burton's "Anatomy of Melancholy," and the third turned his attention to Bernard Shaw.

Through the day they regaled themselves on pure literature, but towards evening, when the train stopped at a town in the northwest, one slipped from the car with a few of the books under his arm, and returned with a round bottle, rye bread and bologna sausage.

Then it was that they discovered a collection of claret and champagne glasses Colonel Jones had stored away. While the train flew southward, they ate and drank, and as each glass was emptied, carefully smashed it.

The tramp who had selected the copy of Omar Khayyam, marked this quotation: "Drink! for you know not whence you came nor why; Drink! for you know not why you go nor where."

Then they appropriated the only two nighties the car boasted, and, since there was not a third, a dress shirt was donned as substitute, and the three snuggled into the white iron bed. More books were sold, more food was got, and the joyous life of the day before was continued. One by one the claret and champagne glasses were smashed, and steadily the books dwindled away. For at each stop more books were sold, and at each draught a glass was smashed. The philosophy of this seemed to be that use of the same glass twice took the flavor off the liquor.

The second night there appears to have been some dissension over one of the nighties, for it was torn from neck to hem; then another dress shirt was pressed into service.

The train veered southward toward New Orleans, and the care-free life of the three men in the boxcar continued. They sold more books, bought more to eat and drink and lived like true epicureans. One must have had a touch of the aesthetic, for he unpacked all the pictures and carefully hung each, then tore off the wrapping of chairs and arranged them about the car. The final effect was that of a drawing room or saloon.

At New Orleans the last of the books, with the exception of the copy of "Omar Khayyam" and "Bernard Shaw" and Burton's "Melancholy of Anatomy," were sold, and the remaining glasses were smashed. Then the three tramps slipped quietly out and disappeared. It was at some station between here and New Orleans that they alighted.

The car arrived in Atlanta and was switched to Fort McPherson, and there Colonel Jones found it as it had been left by its occupants across the continent. The three books lay on the floor; in a little pile were the smashed claret and champagne glasses, and on the bed were the two nighties and two dress shirts. About the walls hung the pictures.

Horseshoe Nail Swallowed.

Winnabow, Feb. 7.—Oliver Johnston, Jr., the young son of Rev. Oliver Johnston, yesterday evening swallowed a horseshoe nail. The nail still remains within the youngster and he seems to suffer no inconvenience thereby.

Hurled to Death.

Fort Meade, Fla., Feb. 7.—W. C. Fisher, of Baxley, Ga., was instantly killed here today when he was thrown from a buggy in a runaway accident, his spinal cord being broken. The body will be shipped to Baxley, Ga.

Church Burned.

Jonesville, Feb. 7.—New Hope Methodist church, two miles south of Jonesville, was burned down today just after the morning service. The fire started in the top of the house, caused from a defective flue. The insurance carried on the house was about $600.

RACE FEELING HIGH

BLACKS WILL TRY TO PREVENT A CLASH.

Each Day Brings Its Quota of Attacks and Reported Attacks Upon Young White Girls.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 5.—To bring justice to the perpetrators of the many recent attacks on white women and girls in the Herron Hill, Lawrenceville and Southside districts of this city, and to take steps to prevent a recurrence of the crimes, the better element of the negroes have issued a call for a general mass meeting to be held next Tuesday night.

The feeling between the white people and the negroes is becoming more acute as each day brings its quota of attacks and reported attacks on white girls by negroes.

The populace of the affected districts is highly wrought up over the existing situation and only the most careful vigilance on the part of a double force of policemen prevents a serious clash, between the races.

Blanche Smith and Rose Sesock residing in a suburb, were attacked by negroes today but their screams frightened the assailants, who escaped. Two negroes, accused of being those who attacked the girls, were later arrested and sent to the workhouse for three months.

John Stokes, a negro, aged 32, was arrested on charges preferred by Mrs. Jane Thompson, of the Southside, who alleges he entered her home and the room of her daughter, but was frightened away by the screams of the girl. The man will be given a hearing tomorrow.

At Johnson, Mrs. Mary Kruse, aged 80 years, was attacked at her home near here, today by a negro. The aged woman's screams frightened her assailant who escaped, leaving his victim in a critical condition. The people threatened to lynch the negro.

At Uniontown, Mrs. Anna Davis, of Lynn's Station, shot and fatally wounded James Donahue, when he, another white man and three negroes attempted to force an entrance into her home. The men laughed at the woman when she warned them to leave. Seizing her husband's revolver, she fired through the door.

BEFORE DAY CLUBS.

Magistrate Clement's Negro Constables Disappearance.

Columbia, Feb. 6.—Magistrate R. Leiby Clement, of Wadmalaw Island, Charleston county, was in the city today with a very surprising story of a condition of affairs in his island. He has been magistrate there for several years, having been appointed by Tillman when he was governor.

Lately the constables he has appointed have been mysteriously disappearing. He has lost two within the past few months and the two he now has have received warning from the Black Hand Society of the island that their time was near at hand if they did not give up their positions. Besides this, the barns and buildings on two of Magistrate Clement's places have been burned.

He is determined to ferret out the perpetrators of the crimes, if possible, and to this end has secured private detectives, and comes here to get the governor to offer reward for information leading to the conviction of the parties guilty of the recent crimes.

He will personally duplicate the reward offered by the governor. The situation on the island is really alarming. Magistrate Clement attributes it to a secret organization of the negroes, who greatly outnumber the whites.

There were forty-three white men on the island in Republican times. Over 1,200 negroes used to vote and their number is greatly increased now. He is obliged to have negro constables, for he can't get white men. Of course it is mainly against the negroes that the arm of the law is used. The negro secret society is believed to be the centre of disturbance.

Several well authenticated stories from this and surrounding islands show a really alarming state of lawlessness on the part of the negroes. If attempt is made to break up the gangs trouble is sure to follow. Governor Ansel will, upon receiving and going over the papers, offer a reward.

Murder Mystery.

Dayton, Ohio, Feb. 5.—Another murder mystery has been added to the long list which already shames this city. Late this afternoon the body of a young woman was dragged out of a cistern in the rear of a vacant house. Her brother has identified her as Lizzie Fulhart, 18 years old, of Vandalia, Ohio.

Murderer Hanged.

Spartanburg, Feb. 5.—Will Foster, a negro, twice convicted of murdering John Young, a well known white man two years ago, was hanged in the county jail today. Foster went to the gallows declaring his innocence.

TEDDY'S SPIES

Sent Out to Manufacture Testimony Against Men That

HE COULD NOT BOSS

An Arizona Man Files Sensational Statement With Senator Clay, Says an Effort Was Made to Involve Senator Morgan in a Timber Scandal—Perjured Evidence Used.

Washington, Feb. 6.—L. S. Williams, the Arizona man who came to Washington to press charges against the secret service and who claims that his room at the Raleigh hotel was entered Sunday night and valuable papers taken, has filed with Senator Clay, a member of the investigating committee, a sensational statement enumerating his charges against secret service agents.

The statement revolves around the conviction of E. B. Perrin, a millionaire land owner and sheep raiser of Arizona, for conspiracy against the government, but, according to Williams, the original purpose of pressing the house was a groundless and unsuccessful effort to implicate the late Senator John T. Morgan, of Alabama, in a scandal involving a large tract of valuable timber lands in California.

Williams charges also that the department of justice has made an investigation since the conviction of Perrin which completely vindicates him of conspiracy and shows that the conviction was secured by unquestionable means. The report of this investigation, Williams claims, will not be divulged by Attorney General Bonaparte.

Senator Clay will lay the statement of Williams before the investigating committee if he can get a meeting. He states that the investigation has been delayed by Senator Gallager, whose time for the present is required by the consideration of business of the District of Columbia.

Another of Williams' charges is that E. H. Harriman obtained several years ago a vast tract of land in Utah by the same means as Perrin contemplated using. The lands were patented to the Harriman interests, by claims under the Hitchcock administration. Subsequently, when there was talk of an investigation, the Harriman people deeded the lands back to the government and and there were no prosecutions as in the case of Perrin, whose methods were identical.

The prosecution of Perrin grew out of a transaction he contemplated with John A. Benson, of San Francisco, involving sixteen thousand acres of timber land in California.

When the government investigated the case prior to Perrin's indictment, Inspector George C. Hunt advised against a prosecution. In his report was an affidavit by C. P. Snell, a secret service agent, who was previously in Perrin's employ as a lawyer, and this affidavit set forth that Perrin remarked to Benson, the alleged conspiracy that he (Perrin) had great influence at Washington with Senator Morgan, and that he could get him to assist in getting the lands.

The first question asked Perrin by Inspector Hunt was: "How much money had been paid Senator Morgan by Perrin," and for what purpose had it been paid, according to Williams' statement. Eight months later Secret Service Agent William J. Burns appeared before the federal grand jury and declared that he was just from Oyster Bay, and that President Roosevelt wanted Perrin indicted.

Snell's affidavit, in which Senator Morgan was mentioned, grew out of a conversation which he overheard between Perrin and Benson, in which the former spoke of the Alabama senator only as a friend and not as a legal adviser, and the impression conveyed was not justified, according to Williams, and was malicious.

In this connection the Arizona man states verbally that the investigation grew out of a desire on the part of the president to implicate Morgan because of Morgan's persistent fight against the Panama Canal.

It is charged by Williams that the records of the secret service will show that about $4,000 was paid to Snell by the government and his only services consisted of testimony against Perrin.

Snell had previous to his employment by the secret service been Perrin's lawyer.

The statement charges that Snell's sworn evidence against Perrin on trial of the case has since been proven by Snell's confession to have been perjured.

Williams claims that in spite of Snell's confession to perjury, the government refuses to indict him for the offense. He claims that Perrin was notified only last week in San Francisco at the door of the grand jury room that no indictment would be returned against Snell, unless it was ordered by Attorney General Bonaparte, no matter what evidence might be submitted. This statement, he claims was made by Assistant District Attorney A. P. Black.

THREE LIVING WIVES

SENSATIONAL DEVELOPMENTS IN NEW JERSEY CASE.

A Twelve-Year-Old Boy Recognized His Father's Picture in a Newspaper.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 4.—There were sensational developments today in the case of Frank Wilhelm, the contractor who was found murdered in his home here Monday. The revelations include the charge that Wilhelm had three wives living, and that he had never been divorced.

Another occurrence of interest was the action of the police in suddenly bringing Mrs. Mary J. Wilhelm and Nicholas Sicca, a boarder in the Wilhelm home, both held in connection with the murder, into the presence of the body of the murdered man.

Mrs. Wilhelm, though she became hysterical, withstood the test fairly well, but Sicca was so disturbed that his arraignment in court, set for today, had to be postponed.

Mrs. Frederick Wilhelm, of New York, claimed she was married to Wilhelm in Jersey City in 1894, soon after he had deserted his first wife, Hannah H. Wilhelm, who was also his step-sister. Two years later, she said, she discovered his perfidy. When she accused him, he deserted her, she alleged, and her year-old daughter and a baby soon to be born, and fled with his step-sister wife.

Since then she had not heard from him until the child, then unborn, and now a lad of 12 years, read of his murder in a newspaper Tuesday, and recognized his picture in the paper as that of the man whose picture, in their home, he had been told was his father. Mrs. Frederick Wilhelm does not know what became of Hannah Wilhelm.

Mrs. Frederick Wilhelm and her sister, Mrs. Maria Armater, of New York, fainted at Wilhelm's bier today, while the funeral was in progress, and when, as they declared, they identified the dead man as the husband of Fredericka Wilhelm.

The last named fell dramatically across the coffin in a complete state of collapse while her sister slipped to the floor in a faint.

Mrs. Mary J. Wilhelm, the wife now held in connection with the murder, was not permitted to attend the funeral, although she had requested permission to do so.

RETURNS TO SCENE OF CRIME

And Gives Himself Up After Lapse of Ten Years.

Dublin, Ga., Feb. 6.—Drawn by some irresistible impulse to return to the scene where he killed a man when he was 15 years of age, Manly B. Tripp, after roaming over a good portion of the world for 10 years, today surrendered to the sheriff of Laurens county. For some time he has been here and was an interested spectator in the court house during a trial. He was not recognized until he voluntarily surrendered. He was a well known youth and is prominently connected. He shot James Hood down on the streets in 1899. He escaped and effort to capture him failed.

MINISTER WHIPPED

On the Streets by a Big, Burly Woman.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 6.—The Rev. Jas. P. Peden, pastor of the Coweta Baptist church, was horse-whipped in Main street by Mrs. L. J. Charlton, who accused him of making disparaging remarks about her. Mr. Peden was carried away bleeding and unconscious. Mrs. Charlton waited at the postoffice with a long black snake whip hidden in the folds of her skirt. The minister was unable to protect himself from her blows and the assault, which was witnessed by a crowd was not stopped until the police interfered.

Saves the Ship.

Mexico City, Feb. 6.—The revenue cutter Josevius Limantour became disabled fifty miles off the coast near Culiacan a few days ago, according to reports received here, and her calls for assistance by wireless were caught up by the Alamos, which immediately steamed out and brought the disabled cutter safely to port.

Children's Home Burned.

Battle Creek, Mich., Feb. 5.—The Haskell Memorial Home, a three and a half story brick orphanage, located on the western boundary of this city, was destroyed by fire early today. Three of the 37 little inmates were missing and are supposed to have been burned in the building.

under nineteen heads, and after each allegation he cites references, letters, affidavits and court records to substantiate them. If the investigation committee goes into the matter, much time will be required to investigate the citations unless Williams has certified copies of all the records as he claims he have in the safe at Raleigh hotel.

SCORES TEDDY

BRYAN SPEAKS TO BIG CROWD AT TAMPA.

In Address at Fair Declares President Has Delegated to Himself the Authority of a Czar.

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 4.—Speaking to an immense throng of people from the grand stand of the race track this afternoon, Wm. J. Bryan said he brought to the Democrats of the South a message of good cheer, that there is a steadily increasing sentiment that makes for the growth of the Democratic party in the United States.

He commented on the world-wide spread of Democracy as one of the "signs of the times," when the masses would demand their rights of aristocratic class, which is now using every endeavor to hold its own against such a growth. He cited the recent charges in the government of Turkey and declared that the downtrodden masses of that country had forced the most autocratic monarch of modern times to grant a democratic constitution.

He commented upon the usurpation of power by the "aristocratic party," the present administration, the head of which he referred to as delegating to himself all the authority of a czar in the manipulation of his high office. But a change is surely, if slowly coming, he declared, and added that prospects were brighter than ever for Democratic victory in 1912.

Mr. Bryan injected considerable humor in his remarks by saying that he knew there were entirely too many Republicans in the country for their own good and for the country's good, saying that he had been "telling them about it" for a long time.

In reply to a question, Mr. Bryan declined to say whether he expected to be called upon by his party again "to tell them about it," passing the query with a broad smile.

Mr. Bryan was the guest tonight at a banquet given in his honor by the state mid-winter fair association. Mr. Bryan spoke on the "Future of the Democracy."

Other speakers were Hillary A. Herbert, secretary of the navy under President Cleveland; Governor Albert W. Gilchrist, of Florida; Ex-Gov. Napoleon B. Broward, and "private" John Allen, of Mississippi.

Touching upon the labor question, Mr. Bryan reviewed the recent decision of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, sentencing Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank B. Morrison to jail, and declared that "these great and royal leaders of organized labor are entitled to the sympathy of the entire people."

Mr. Bryan said that the trust question remained unsettled and would be a controlling issue in the next national campaign; that it would remain for the Democrats to give the American people relief.

TILLMAN'S FIGHT SUCCESSFUL

Leading Republican Says Crum Will

Not Be Confirmed.

Charleston, Feb. 6.—The Evening Post says Crum will not be confirmed at this session. The Post says its Washington correspondent gets this important information from a leading Republican Senator. Whether Mr. Taft will reappoint Crum to the collectorship is problematical. There is some talk that Crum might be appointed recorder of deeds for the District of Columbia, a position which for years has been held by a negro, or he might be appointed register of the treasury.

The Post's Washington correspondent says the Republicans would vote to confirm Crum, but if the Democrats continue to debate the confirmation as they have done, then because of pressure of other important matters the confirmation will not be passed by the Republicans to the exclusion of other business which means that there will be no vote on the nomination this session.

No combination has been made with the Republicans because it is not necessary. It is known that Mr. Taft would like the Crum case disposed of but it can not be done for want of time, and so it will go over.

Planned Ahead.

Quilman, Miss., Feb. 4.—R. I. McLeod, a prominent citizen of this place, committed suicide last night by shooting himself through the heart. His body was not found until this morning. He left a note to his brother-in-law, A. S. Mason, stating that he had planned to take his own life for the past two years.

Divorce Bill Shut Down.

Carson, Nev., Feb. 6.—The Nevada assembly today passed a bill making the divorce of residence of applicants for divorce two years instead of six months as at present. The senate is pretty sure to pass the bill.

Killed by Tornado.

Birmingham, Feb. 5.—Reports have reached here that a tornado struck Booth, Miss., this morning, killing six people and destroying much property. Particulars of the storm are meagre.

LOSS OF LIFE

A Death Dealing Tornado in South Central States.

MANY TOWNS HIT

The Storm Was Accompanied by

Rain, Hail, Lightning and Impenetrable Darkness—In Addition to the Lives Lost, There Was Great Destruction of Property.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 5.—Death for probably a score of persons, loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars in property and the crippling of many telegraph wires resulted between noon and dusk today from a series of small tornadoes which swept the south central States from the Tennessee line to the Texas Panhandle. The storms were accompanied in most cases by hail, darkness, terrific lightning flashes and sheets of rain. Most of the towns where loss of life occurred are off the railroads, so that news from them has been coming in slowly. Known casualties are:

Stuttgart, Ark.—Mrs. Garfield and a child of Will Story is reported fatally injured.

Sulphur Springs, Texas—Mrs. C. Caldwell, from Rolling Fork, Miss. Just before the telephone wires broke word came that four had been killed.

Booth, Miss., reported to Birmingham, Ala., that six had met death there.

In other towns such as Ennies and Waxahachie, Texas, and Boscoe, La., many dwellings are said to have been demolished by the wind.

Arkansas and upper Louisiana rice fields were injured to the extent of many thousands of dollars, while the larger cities experienced rains and darkness and lightning bolts that made large buildings quiver.

At Chattanooga there was a terrific storm of hail.

Houses Blown Down.

Huntsville, Ala., Feb. 5.—The third destructive cyclone to pass over this community in the past score of years came this afternoon and left a trail of death.

The home of George Stewart, seven miles east of here was totally destroyed. His two-year-old child was blown half a mile and killed. His two-year-old child was blown into a grate and probably fatally burned. Mrs. Stewart was caught under some rafters in the house and so badly injured that she will die. Mrs. Tom Bowner and child who were in the house were fatally hurt.

Among the homes destroyed are the following:

C. J. Whitaker's house, four injured.

Tom Hughes' house blown down.

Mort Grimes' house blown down.

Dick Ham, who lived with one Grimes, badly injured.

Many horses were killed and barns and their contents scattered by the winds.

Seven People Killed.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 5.—Mayor George H. Brier, of Cullman, Ala., said that seven people are known to have been killed in that county this afternoon by the cyclone which passed over this section of the State but that wire communication is impossible with the stricken locality.

At Kayosa, a mining camp west of Birmingham, on the Southern railway, today five houses were blown down, but only one man was injured, a Mr. Logan.

The property loss in the territory north of Birmingham appears to have been very large. Numerous trees were blown down on Red Mountain within a mile of the corporate limits of Birmingham. Telephone communication to the north is impossible tonight.

Three Negroes Killed.

Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 5.—The residence of Mr. Stone was damaged, the wind carrying away the roof and a portion of the porch; the residence of a Mrs. Herbert suffered damage, the roof and chimneys toppling in the gale. Six or eight negro cabins on the Stone plantation were destroyed and the inmates who had gathered in the houses during the storm were buried in the debris. Sixteen negroes were more or less severely injured and three crushed to death.

Two Killed in Arkansas.

Brinkley, Ark., Feb. 5.—Two persons were killed and a third fatally injured in a tornado which struck Stuttgart today. The tornado carried away one residence and five barns. The residence destroyed was that of Will Shorri. His wife and child were crushed by the falling timbers. The storm did extensive damage to the rice fields.

Fatal Crag Game.

Winnabow, Feb. 7.—Sheriff Hood received a telephone message this morning informing him of a double killing near Buckhead in the northwestern portion of the county at a gambling den last night. A negro, George Carr, shot and killed two other negroes, Bill Sawyer and Nick Williams. Three others were wounded.
